INTRODUCTION

KISHWAUKEE GENEALOGIST members have spent three years copying the early records of Court Street Methodist Church and getting them ready for publication. Stacia Gibson was chairman of the committee who worked on this project. Others on the committee were: Virginia Bouchard, Dorothy Dailey, Allen Marston, Val Pixler, Katherine Rowland, David Rowland and John Rowland.

The handwriting in these records was faded and hard to read. In many cases it was practically illegible. If we could not read names, we did the best we could and followed them with a question mark. In a few cases the church had question marks included in their records. The ministers sometimes misspelled words and made mistakes. However, we have copied the records as they were recorded in the record books.

Some members moved frequently. If more than one address was given, we used the last one. In the case of some marriage records, we checked with those at the court house. Sometimes a first name was left out of Court Street records. If we found vital information at the court house that was not in Court Street records, we added it in ( ).

This book includes the first seven volumes of the official records of Court Street Methodist Church plus an 1885 membership list. These records start in 1854, the year the church was organized, and continue until 1925. Records from 1883 to 1890 are missing, and all books do not include baptisms and marriages for all years. The membership lists in many cases, include the place the member came from, and if dismissed, the place the member went to. All marriages and baptisms of record are included. Since Court Street was one of the earliest and largest churches in Rockford, this information should be of great value to anyone tracing the history of Rockford families who belonged to the Methodist denomination.

Anyone wanting a copy of this book may contact KISHWAUKEE GENEALOGISTS, P.O. Box 5503, Rockford, IL 61125.

EARLY HISTORY

In 1851, Methodists on Rockford's west side met on Sunday afternoons and Thursday evenings for prayer meetings in the home of James B. Skinner, a house which then stood on the southeast corner of Main and Mulberry Streets. Twenty members were enrolled. Sunday worship services were attended at First Methodist Episcopal Church (now Centennial) on the east side. Since that congregation had become so large, Second Methodist Episcopal Church, which later became Court Street Methodist Church, was officially organized in January, 1852.

The first structure in which the new church was housed was located in the first block north of State Street on the west side of Court Street, a half block south of the present location. The lot on which the new building was located was purchased in the spring of 1853 and the foundations laid that fall. The building was dedicated in November, 1854. It was an imposing structure made of brick and trimmed in white. It was surrounded by a spacious lawn and a wrought iron fence. The architect for this structure was John Austin. The total cost of the property and building was $7,000.

After several decades of progress and growth, it became apparent by 1883 that a larger building was necessary to acommodate the increasing church membership. On September 5, the present site on the corner of Court and Mulberry Streets was purchased. A building committee of Levi Rhoades, S.B. Wilkins, N.E. Lyman, David Keyt and J.G. Chick was selected. David Keyt was chosen as architect. The building was completed in the spring of 1887. On the day of dedication in May of that year, $29,000 was subscribed making possible the dedication of the new sanctuary free from debt. The cost of construction had been $80,000.

In 1911, two lots adjoining the church property to the north were purchased at a cost of $10,000. An institutional unit was built to meet the educational and social needs of the congregation. Construction of the new unit was begun in 1915 and dedicated April 22, 1917. No other major changes were made until 1929. Since we have not included records beyond 1925, this will conclude our account of Court Street Church's history.

1872-1882

For quite a full history of Rockford Methodism, see Rockford Register Oct. 8, 1864.

Changes in Methodism in 1853.

At the Conference of 1853 held in Chicago, Bishop Scott presiding, important changes were made in Rockford Methodism. A new District was formed, called the Rockford District, and Luke Hitchcock was appointed P.E. Also a new church was organized in West Rockford which was left to be supplied.

1st lots secured.

During the first year's pastorate of Rev. F.A. Read at the 1st church in 1851 - two lots were secured (where the Episcopal Church now stands) with the intention of erecting on them a new Methodist Church.

Sold and others bought.

By the advice of Elder Keyes these lots were subsequently disposed of and the lots where Court St. Church now stands were bought.

New Board of Trustees.

A newly elected Board of Trustees proceeded to take subscriptions and erect the church.

1st pastor.

At the next session of the Conference, a petition was sent in for a pastor and the Rev. Mr. Chatfield formerly of the Michigan Conference was sent. The Church edifice not being completed, the society worshiped in a Hall on State St. Before the close of the Conference year, he resigned his charge and went to Michigan.

Rev. Stewart appointed.

At the Conference of 1854, Rev. W.F. Stewart was appointed pastor of the West Rockford charge and soon after Conference (in Nov.) the present church was dedicated.

Dedication and additions members.

The dedicating services were conducted by Rev. Bros. Crews, Bolles, Stuff and Agard. During the following fall and winter, 140 applied for admission, swelling their members to nearly 200.

Change of name.

At the Conference (Held in Waukegan) in 1858 the 3rd St. charge was organizing and the appointments in the minutes read 1st Church, Court St. and 3d St. Bro. Stewart served a full pastorate, the term being at that time only two years.

Rapid Growth.

Though the Society was organized with but forty members, it rapidly increased in numbers, and soon took rank as one of the influential churches of the city.

Remodeled.

Since the building was first erected, it has been remodeled, and many improvements added. The audience now has 74 pews, and its seating capacity is about 400.

Successive Pastors.

The several pastors that have received appointment to this charge since Bro. Stewart's ministry are in the following order Revs. L.A. Sanford, W.P. Gray, J.R. Goodrich, J.H. Vincent, W.P. Gray (2), F.P. Cleveland, T.C. Clendenning, L.Meredith and Wm. A. Smith.

Sabbath School.

From the beginning the Sabbath School has been a strong factor in the religious work. Its growth was rapid, and soon stood abreast with any in the city both as to numbers, and also as to influence. It has maintained for some years about 350 scholars with an average attendance of 225.

Conf. of 1876. Appointment of C.E. Mandeville.

Rev. C.E. Mandeville, late principal of Jennings Seminary, was the next Pastor appointed to the charge, and began his work in Oct. 1876.

During the winter of '76-'77 a glorious revival was enjoyed, during which some two hundred (200) must have been converted. The series of meetings lasted from Jan. 1st to March 1st. Among the converts were quite a number from Prof. Lounsberry's school who united with some church at home after their return.

During all the extra meetings no help from abroad was called in, and the work was nobly sustained by the church.

Disadvantage.

They labored under many disadvantages, and perhaps the most serious of the number was want of room. At many of the meetings the people were crowded to suffication. On the Sabbath the church could not begin to accomodate the people. From thirty to forty were frequently seen at the altar at once seeking redemption in the Blood of the Lamb.

1st Fruits Jan. 7th.

The first fruit of the good work was Sabbath, when nine were recived on probation and three baptized.

Feb. 4th. More fruit.

Again on the Sabbath of Feb. 4th, '77, the door of the church was thrown open for the reception of probationers, and fifty five gave their hand to the church. This was probably the largest number that was ever received at any one time.

Feb. 7th. Funeral of Rev. Bro. Holgate.

Rev. Bro. Holgate, a Local Elder, was buried Feb. 7th 1877, and his remains were taken to Elgin where he lived previous to coming to this place. Bro. H. had been in very poor health for some time, and was very much reduced in his material resources. He died poor in this world's goods, but he was rich toward God and went in triumph to his eternal inheritance.

More fruit of the revival.

On Sabbath of Feb. 11th there were twenty-four more probationers received into the church, and on the Sabbath of Feb. 18th Eight more were added to the list. Twelve more were received on March 4th and March 11th and on April 1st and 15th Eight more.

April 18th. Sydney Lowell funeral.

Sydney Lowell, one of the oldest members of the church, and among the first settlers, was buried from his home April 18th 1877. He was a faithful consistent Christian.

Baptism.

Sabbath July 1st 1877 forty of the converts were baptised, and Aug. 5th four more.

Reception into full membership.

Aug. 12th in the evening the pastor C.E. Mandeville received of the probationers into full connection Ninety One, and Sept. 12th twelve more were added making in all 103.

2nd year of C.E. Mandeville.

By the unanimous request of the fourth Quarterly Conference the pastor C.E. Mandeville has returned for the 2nd year. The Annual Conference convened at Princeton and the pastor was entertained at the residence of Capt. Barley, Editor of the Bureau Co. Republican.

Jan. 15th 1878 Church Camp Meeting.

What is known as a Church Camp meeting was held this week beginning with a Tuesday morning and ending Friday night. Three services a day were held consisting of Preaching at 10 a.m., Experience Meeting at 3 p.m. and preaching again in the evening at 7:30 followed by a prayer meeting.

All the services were well attended and the results were good - expecially so in the church.

METHODISM IN MIDWAY.

REV. G. R. VANHORNE'S HISTORICAL DISCOURSE ON THE GROWTH OF METHODISM IN ROCKFORD.

A Very Interesting and Accurate Account of the Religious Growth in this Place.

The following historical discourse was preached in the Centennial Church, Sunday evening, Aug. 6, 1882, by the pastor, Rev. G. R. Vanhorne. It will be read by all Methodists with much interest, and also by many others who have been witnesses to the steady growth of this Christian denomination in the city of Rockford. Mr. Vanhorne has spent many hours of patient research to gather up the valuable facts contained in this address. The discourse, as printed in the GAZETTE, will be deposited in the corner-stone of the new Centennial Church now in process of erection. The pastor announced as his text, "A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation; I, the Lord, will hasten it in his time."—Isaiah, 60:22.

In the "Rockford Forum," published by Austin Colton, of Dec. 3d, 1845, appears a well written article of historical value, from the pen of Julius P. Bolivar MacCabe, in which he makes the following statement:

"The first religious services held by a white congregation in Winnebago county were held in a log house belonging to Germanicus Kent, at Rockford in June, 1835. Rev. Aratus Kent, a Presbyterian clergyman, of Galena, was the preacher, and the families of Messrs. Daniel S. Haight and Germanicus Kent (17 in number) then constituting all the white inhabitants except Mr. Stephen Mack, were present."

Methodism was introduced in the following year. In July, 1836, William Royal preached in the house of Henry Enoch, seven miles northeast of Rockford. Mr. Royal was then in charge of the Fox River mission, and traveled over a circuit which embraced twenty-eight preaching-places. On his return to attend the annual conference, which met at Springfield, he passed through Rockford and on the 2d of September, 1836, he preached in the log house of Samuel Gregory, which stood then on what is now, block 14 in Woodruff's Second Addition to Rockford. Ninth street bounding it on the west, Eighth Ave., on the south. At the close of his sermon, he organized the first Methodist class, comprising five persons; namely,—Samuel Gregory, Joanna Gregory, Mary Enoch, Daniel Beers and Mary Beers. Samuel Gregory was appointed leader. This little band was the beginning of a multitude. Two of this devoted company are yet living; Mary Beers, who resides in this city, and Samuel Gregory, who lives in Pekin, New York. The other three, faithful unto death, have gone to their reward.

At the conference of 1836, Bishop Roberts appointed Dr. Arnold to the "Sycamore circuit," of which Rockford was a part. The few Methodists gathered as often as possible into the house of Samuel Gregory, to hear this good man expound to them the scriptures. In 1837 the conference met at Rushville, Ill., when Bishop Roberts sent William Gaddis with Robert Lane as assistant, to take charge of the "Rockford circuit." This circuit belonged to the Chicago district, over which John Clark was presiding elder. Robert Lane soon retired from the work, and Leander S. Walker was sent to fill his place.

At the next conference which met in Alton, Sept. 12, 1838, Bishop Soule returned Mr. Walker to Rockford as preacher in charge, with Nathan Jewett as assistant. During the early portion of Mr. Walker's pastorate he preached in the house of James Boswell, north of the "old brewery." Afterward the Methodists secured permission to worship in an edifice constructed by Daniel S. Haight, for a public building, and was used for a school house, and afterwards for a printing office, and also occasionally as a court house. It stood where the American House now stands. That building was afterward sold and removed by Mr. Scott, to North First street, where it now stands, and is owned and occupied by W. G. Conick.

In the summer of this year, (1838,) the Methodists built a parsonage for their minister. It was located on First street, between Rock and Prairie streets, facing west. This says Rev. Leander S. Walker, "was the First Methodist parsonage built within the bounds of what is now the Rock River Conference." Another memorable event occurred during this year. The first quarterly meeting ever held in Rockford, was held late in the summer of this year, in a barn belonging to Daniel S. Haight; and the barn was located south of State St., between Second and Third streets, facing east. The barn was built for the use of "Frink and Walker's" line of stages. It was not yet completed at the time of this quarterly meeting, which began on Saturday, and continued all day Sabbath. The frame of that barn was bought some years afterwards by Isaac Rowley, and removed two miles east, where it was set up and enclosed, and where it stands to this day; its oaken timbers still as sound as the doctrines preached within it during that meeting.

Bishop Morris presided at the conference in Bloomington in 1839, and returned to Rockford, Nathan Jewett as preacher in charge.

The Rock River Conference was organized on August 26th, 1840, at Mount Morris, Ill. This Conference was held in tents in the grove, Bishop Waugh presiding. When the appointments were read off, Rockford remained in the Chicago District, with John T. Mitchell as Presiding Elder, and Semphronious H. Stocking as Circuit Preacher. In 1841 John Crummer was appointed to Rockford by Bishop Morris, who presided at the Conference held at Plattsville, Wis., August 25th. The Methodists held service in the brick school house which stood on North Second Street, between Court and Rock Streets, facing east. The Universalists appointed their service at the same hour and place, and a conflict arose, which resulted in the handful of Methodists withdrawing from the school house. The pastor removed his family "up stairs," and fitted up the lower story of the parsonage as a chapel, in which they worshipped God without molestation.

August 3d, 1842, the Conference met in Chicago, and Bishop Roberts assigned Rockford to the care of Silas Bolles. Our people were now occupying the building afterwards known as the "Old Seminary" building. The "Forum," of December 3d, 1845, says: "The Methodist Church is a frame building located on First street. It was commenced by the Presbyterians, but was subsequently sold to the Methodist who finished it in 1840." That record is not entirely accurate. Dr. John H. Vincent in a sermon published in the Rockford Register of October 8th, 1864, has the following which is correct: "The build had been erected by H. B. Potter, and E. H. Potter and Asa Crosby, for the use of the Congregational Society; but in the meantime Messrs. Kent and Brinkerhoff had built and dedicated a church on the West side for this purpose. So the East side Presbyterians and Congregationalists united with those on the West side, and sold the building to individuals, who donated it to the County on certain conditions. The Methodists bought it of the County Commissioners in 1842, and held it for some years. They then sold it to Mr. Regan, from whom it went into Mr. Potter's hands, and while he held it, the Female Seminary used it." This building is now the property of Gilbert Woodruff, on South Third street, and by him used as a barn.

On the 20th of September, 1842, the Methodist Society became an incorporate body, and elected the following five persons as Trustees: Horace Miller, James B. Martyn, Samuel Gregory, Daniel Beers, and Willard Wheeler. At the Conference in Dubuque, Iowa, August 30th, 1843, Rockford was exalted into a "Station," and Bishop Andrews appointed Richard Blanchard to take charge of the same. In that year, on the 10th of November, the Trustees of the Society bought of Daniel S. Haight and wife, lot 8 in block 26 for the sum of $200. This parcel of ground is the same now occupied with a residence by City Marshal, Thomas Sully, on First street. This was the lot on which the parsonage was built five years previous. The Trustees sold the house and lot to George Shearer on the 6th of June, 1849, for $300.

Nathaniel P. Heath succeeded Mr. Blanchard in 1844, being appointed by Bishop Morris, who presided at the conference in Milwaukee, July 24. On August 10, 1845, conference met in Peoria, and Bishop Morris sent Charles D. Cahoon to Rockford. He filled his appointment but once, when he sickened and died September 25, 1845. His remains are buried in the East Side cemetery. Out of the fifty-eight pastors who have been appointed to Methodist pulpits in Rockford, only this one has died among this people while in the pastorate.

John Lucock was sent to fill out the term of Mr. Cahoon. During his administration the society resolved to build a church. On the 6th of December, 1845, a subscription paper was prepared and circulated. The Quarterly Conference had already appointed John Lucock, Willard Wheeler, G. O. Holmes, James B. Martyn, Horace Miller, Samuel Gregory, Edward Fitch, and Eliphalet Gregory, a building committee, to superintend the erection of the edifice which was to be called "The First Methodist Episcopal Church of Rockford." That original subscription has been carefully preserved, and is now in the archives of this society. The amount subscribed on that paper was $2,312.

In 1846, Nathaniel P. Heath was, by the request of the society, reappointed to this charge by Bishop Hamline, who superintended the conference in Galena, August 12. On the 25th of February, 1846, the trustees bought of W. H. Gilman and wife, lots 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, being the east half of block 31, located on south Second street, between Oak and Walnut. The price paid was $325. This part of the town was then called the "Barrens," and was a hunting ground for the boys. These lots, excepting No. 1, are the same on which the parsonage and new church now stands, and on which the first church and former parsonage stood. The contract was let for building the church to Marshal H. Regan, in 1846, but was not completed until 1848. The brick for the church was made by Hiram Richardson. The stone for the foundation was given by Jesse Buckbee. George Shearer has the credit of removing the first shovelful of earth after the ground had been staked off and the location of the building had been determined upon.

The conference of 1847 was held in Chicago, August 11, Bishop Waugh presiding. From that conference, James E. Wilson was sent to Rockford. He remained one year. The church was completed and dedicated during his administration.

On March 13, 1848 a second subscription paper was drawn up and circulated among the people. This document contained this stringent proviso. "That the seats in said church shall be free for all, in accordance with the discipline and usages of said church,—if not free these subscriptions to be null and void." The amount pledged on that paper was $2,069. This remarkable paper is also preserved, and should be kept with the first one as a memento of the self-sacrifice and devotion of the people who helped build the first Methodist church in Rockford.

The dedication of the new church occurred on June 1, 1848, with appropriate religious services. Leander S. Walker preached the sermon, being assisted in the ceremonies by the pastor James S. Wilson. The "Forum" of May 31, 1848, has this to say about the church, "It is a fine building, an ornament to the town, and a credit to its builders." The building cost in money $7,000..

Canton was the seat of the Conference, August 2, 1848, when Bishop Morris sent to Rockford James C. Parks. He has the credit of being the first preacher in charge who remained two years on this work. During his first year, in 1849, the society built a "grout" parsonage on the corner lot just south of where the present parsonage now stands. On the 18th of July of that year (1849) the Annual Conference held its session in Rockford, Bishop Janes presiding. The body of ministers were well received by the people, and it was a memorable event among the early Methodists of this section.

Bishop Hamline presided at the Conference in Plainfield, July 17, 1850, and appointed to Rockford William P. Jones, who remained but one year, when he was succeeded by Francis A. Reed, who received his appointment from Bishop Waugh, who superintended the conference which met this year, July 17th, at Peoria. It was during the pastorate of Mr. Reed, that the "Second Methodist Episcopal church" was organized. These were successful years for Methodism. At the end of his term he reported 400 members and twenty probationers.

From 1841 to 1853 Rockford had been a part of Mt. Morris District. This year the Conference, which met at Chicago, Sept. 14, redistricted the work, and then was formed what has retained its name up to this day, "The Rockford District." Bishop Scott appointed to this District, as Presiding Elder, Luke Hitchcock. William Tasker was sent to "East Rockford" as pastor, and "West Rockford" was left to be supplied by Mr. Chatfield.

The seat of the next conference was Lewistown, Sept. 13, 1854. James Baume was sent from this session by Bishop Morris to East Rockford. He served the church two years.

From the Aurora Conference, Sept. 12, 1856, Bishop Simpson sent Hooper Crews to this charge. During his second year the society swarmed again, and the "Third Street church" was established.

In the Conference of Aug. 25, 1858, which met at Waukegan, the three societies in Rockford were respectively named, "First Church," "Court Street," and "Third Street." Bishop Ames appointed Lewis Anderson as pastor of First church.

The next Conference was held at Galena, Oct. 5, 1859, when Bishop Ames reappointed to this charge, Francis A. Reed. During his first year Mrs. Reed departed this life, Aug. 18, '60, and entered into immortal bliss. During his second year the Swedish Methodist Episcopal society was organized.

Freeport entertained the Conference beginning on October 2d, 1861, Bishop Simpson presiding. Joseph Hartwell was appointed to the First church, but failing in health, resigned after nine months' service, and Amos P. Mead filled out the year Bishop Baker, at the Joliet conference, Sept. 24, 1862, returned Mr. Mead to this field.

The session of the conference Sept. 24, 1863, was held in the First church, Rockford, Bishop Scott presiding. The Rockford Register, published during the session, has this item of interest: "About 200 ministers and visitors from abroad are in attendance. The session is a very pleasant one. Bishop Scott is a capital presiding officer, and pushes business along with correctness and dispatch. Bishop Ames was also present a portion of Wednesday and Thursday, on his way to the Minnesota conference." This session was noted for its strong resolutions of "war for the Union." Mr. Mead remained with the First church for another year.

Conference in Chicago, October 6, 1864. Bishop Thompson stationed David Teed at the First church; he remained one year and a half, when he retired, and G. L. S. Stuff filled out his year.

James Baume, who had just returned from India, where he had been for seven years as a missionary, was assigned to this church in 1866 by Bishop Clark, who presided over the conference in Ottawa, Sept. 19. Mrs. Baume was in poor health, having broken down while in India and on the 24th of February, 1867, she entered into life eternal in great triumph.

On Oct. 6, 1869, conference convened at Freeport. Bishop Clark appointed to the First church Joseph Odgers. He remained three years. During his second year the present beautiful brick parsonage was built at a cost of $3,500. The old parsonage was transformed into a barn and removed to the rear of the lot.

Third Street, Rockford was the appointed place in which the conference met Oct. 9, 1872. Bishop Wiley sent William H. Gloss to the First church; he remained two years. Giles L. Wiley was his successor, being appointed by Bishop Bowman at the conference which met at Sterling, Oct. 7, 1874.

In 1876, Bishop Bowman sent to the First church its last pastor. The conference met at Chicago, Oct. 11. Hooper Crews, D. D., was read off for this church. At the expiration of one year the First church and Third street church ceased to exist under these respective titles, and in the union of the two societies adopted the name of "Centennial church."

COURT-STREET CHURCH.

This society is the daughter of the First church. During the pastorate of Francis A. Reed, the congregations became so large that he suggested the formation of a new church on the west side of the river. The organization was completed on January 1, 1852. The meeting was held in the church on the East side, and the following persons were elected trustees: William I. Cole, James Taylor, Charles N. Andrews, Jonathan Hitchcock and James B. Skinner. The new Society numbered 40 members. On the 14th of January, 1853, the Trustees bought of Stephen P. Keys, lot 8, in block 31, (the lot on which the Church now stands) for $350. A subscription paper was circulated preparatory for building a Church. The building was commenced in 1853. The Conference in the fall of that year sent them a Mr. Chatfield as pastor. During the construction of the Church the Society worshiped in "Boyd's Hall," on State street. Mr. Chatfield remained a portion of the year when he resigned his position and returned to Michigan. William Tasker, pastor of the First Church assumed oversight of the new Society until Conference. In September, 1854, William F. Stewart was appointed pastor, and soon after his arrival on the charge the new Church was dedicated. In the Rockford Register of May 19th, 1855, William F. Stewart in writing a sketch of Court Street Church says: "The dedicatory service was conducted by Revs. Crews, Bolles, Stuff, and Agard, in November, 1854." Unfortunately he failed to state the day of the month when that dedication occurred. The sermon was preached by Hooper Crews. The building was erected by William I. Cole, at a cost of $7,000. A gracious revival followed the opening of the new Church, and during that Conference year 140 persons were added to their number.

In 1864, Court Street Church was set off in the Mt. Morris District, and William T. Harlow was appointed Presiding Elder. But this division of territory proved a failure, and in 1865 this charge was returned as in the Rockford District where it properly belonged and has since remained.

On August 26th, 1857, the annual Conference was held in this Church, Bishop Scott presiding. The Rockford Register in speaking of the Conference says: "We have seldom seen a body of that size proceed with such order and regularity to the routine of business or effect the same with greater dispatch." The Conference was especially noted for passing some very stringent Anti-Slavery resolutions, and in holding a special service on Monday, the 31st, in "breaking ground" for the "Rockford Wesleyan Seminary," which was to be located "on State street, on the rise of ground just adjoining the city limits on the West." The enterprise appears to have been a failure.

In the spring of 1866, the Society purchased their present parsonage property, on the corner of Church and Peach streets, at a cost of $3,500.

On Oct. 13, 1880, the Conference again met in this church, Bishop Hurst presiding. THE ROCKFORD GAZETTE, in a editorial concerning this Conference, makes this complimentary notice. "Our readers will bear us out in the assertion that the body of Methodist preachers gathered here during that time were as companionable, as gentlemanly, as talented, and as jolly a set of men as is often got together." The people of Rockford will have reason to remember that Conference for at least three things: The brilliant speech of welcome by William McKinley; the "heresy" investigation; and the singing of the doxology by the preachers, over the election news from Indiana.

The present membership of the Court Street church, as reported by the pastor, is 506. Court Street, for a term of years, has been considered by the Rock River Conference, as the chief church outside of Chicago, and but few outrank her even there.

The following is a correct list of the pastors who have served this society since its organization:

1853–54—Mr. Chatfield.
1854–56—William F. Stewart.
1856–58—Luman A. Sanford.
1858–60—William P. Gray.
1860–61—James R. Goodrich, William E. Daniels, T. B. Taylor.
1861–62—John H. Vincent, Daniel P. Kidder, D. D.
1862–64—John H. Vincent.
1864–65—William P. Gray.
1865–67—Festus P. Cleveland.
1867–70—Thomas C. Clendenning.
1870–73—Lewis Meredith.
1873–76—William Aug. Smith.
1876–79—Charles E. Mandeville.
1879–82—T. Pliny Marsh.

THIRD STREET CHURCH.

This society was the second daughter of the First Church. It was organized with about eighty members on the 9th of January, 1858, while Hooper Crews was pastor. At that date the following trustees were elected: Benjamin Holt, William Brown, Charles Foster, Solomon Wheeler, George Troxell, Willard Wheeler, William Worthington, Francis A. Horn and James Chick. Two lots located on the east side of Third street, between State and Court streets were purchased of David Miles for $1,200. The church was contracted for and built by John Earley in the same year. It was dedicated by Hooper Crews, on Saturday, the 9th of October, 1858. Thomas M. Eddy preached on the following Sunday morning. The church cost $4,000. A parsonage was built adjoining the edifice on the north in 1859, at a cost of $600. In 1866 the church was enlarged and greatly improved at an outlay of $1,800. On the 26th of March, 1869, the wife of the pastor J. F. Yates, ended her labors and entered into rest. In 1871 the society bought a parsonage property on State street, across from the Baptist, church for $3,900. And in 1874 they sold the former parsonage on Third street for $1,800.

On Oct. 9, 1872, the annual conference held its session in Third Street church, Bishop Wiley presiding. Hon. William Brown welcomed the conference with a fine address. The GAZETTE, of October 23, 1872, says: "All agree that it was one of the most pleasant and most successful meetings ever held by this conference; that its sessions were never more harmonious, or more largely attended, and that the great brotherhood of Methodists never had more credible representatives or more worthy pastors."

Some of the most gracious revivals that ever blessed Rockford, occurred under the labors of some of the pastors of Third Street church.

We append a list of the pastors of this church in the order of their appointment:

1858–60—Nathaniel P. Heath.
1860–62—Luman A. Sanford.
1862–63—William B. Slaughter, nine months; Charles Macreading, three months.
1863–66—James S. Chadwick.
1866–68—Jeremiah F. Yates
1868–69—Jeremiah F. Yates, six months, Lewis Meredith, six months.
1869–70—Lewis Meredith.
1870–72—J. G. L. McKowan.
1872–73—J. G. L. McKowan, six months; David H. Wheeler, D. D., six months.
1873–74—Robert D. Shepherd.
1874–77—William H. Burns.

SWEDISH M. E. CHURCH.

This society was organized on July 22, 1861. During the pastorate of Francis A. Reed, of the First church, the following were the trustees elected: Peter A. Peterson, Isaac Lindgrew, Adolph D. Anderson, Gustavus Anderson, and Charles J. Carlson. They bought the old Westminister church, in 1861, for $600. They removed it to their lot on First avenue, and repaired it in 1868. They completed their present handsome brick building in 1867, and had it dedicated by Bishop Merrill. The building cost $8,000. The society started with a membership of twelve, and now numbers 168.

The following pastors have served the church in order:

1860–63—V. Whitting.
1863–65—Albert Erieson.
1865–66—Peter Newburg.
1866–67—August Westergren.
1867–68—Oscar Shorgren.
1868–71—Olof Gunderson.
1871–72—John Linn.
1872–73—A. Y. Westergren.
1873–75—S. B. Newman.
1875–78—John Weagren.
1878–79—S. D. Sorleine.
1879–82—Herman Lindskog.

WINNEBAGO STREET CHURCH.

This society traces its origin to a Sunday school that was started by a few devoted people on the 20th of May, 1856, and which held its sessions in a grove on the river bank near where River and Loomis streets intersect. From the grove in October they went by invitation of the directors into the new school house, and continued to grow and multiply until a church became a necessity. The Sabbath school was under the supervision of Court Street church, and the new society was a swarm from this thrifty hive. The church was organized in the house of Israel Soverign, on March 4, 1864, Richard A. Blanchard, P. E., acting as chairman. The roll of members numbered twenty-three. The following trustees were elected at that meeting: Israel Soverign, Fred A. Arnold, Josephus Lakin, Benjamin F. Whittle, and Stephen Thayer. Ground was broken for the new church, August 8, 1864. The corner stone was laid August 24. The address was delivered by Thomas M. Eddy, D. D. The church was built at a cost of $8,000, and dedicated by Dr. Eddy on Feb. 12, 1865. The parsonage of this society was built in 1867, for $1,250. The present membership of the church, as reported by the pastor, is 253. The preachers appointed to this church are as follows:

1864–66—Robert Bentley.
1866–69—William D. Skelton.
1869–71—Henry L. Martin.
1871–73—John M. Caldwell.
1873–76—Francis A. Reed.
1876–79—Ramaine S. Cantine.
1879–81—William S. Harrington.
1881–82—William H. Smith.

NINTH STREET CHURCH

was organized on March 23d, 1877, and was a branch of the Centennial Church. The board of trustees elected at that meeting were John Budlong, L. B. Shannon, A. D. Crandall, M. H. Ernst, E. H. Newton, R. D. Woodruff and M. D. Field. Their house of worship was bought of the Swedish Methodists, in 1876, at a cost of $300. They began under quite unfavorable auspices, but now bid fair to become a self-supporting church. They have at present a membership of 40. Their chapel has lately undergone a thorough repairing, refitting, reseating, and made a very desirable place of worship. The following pastors have served the church in order:

1877–78—Joseph Odgers.
1878–79—J. A. Brouse.
1879–80—William A. Spencer.
1880–82—Joseph Odgers.

CENTENNIAL CHURCH.

This society is the union of the "First Church" and the "Third street Church." Mother and daughter concluded, on the 19th of May, 1876, to unite their fortunes and spend their future as one body. During the pastorate of Hooper Crews, in 1858, the separation occurred, and during his pastorate in 1876 the reunion was effected. The board of trustees elected on May 19, was, William Brown, George Troxell, Clark Miller, Harmon B. Soper, John Budlong, Joseph Rodd, Thomas G. Lawler, Ruben Sovereign and John Clark Gregory. The Society agreed to build a new house of worship, and until that purpose could be consumated, to worship in the Third street church. The union was made effectual in 1877, and the first church was abandoned as a place of worship. A subscription paper, looking towards a new church edifice, was circulated in the fall of 1881 by William A. Spencer, pastor, and George Troxell, and $5,300 was pledged. After the annual conference of 1881, George Troxell and the present pastor continued soliciting subscriptions and increased the amount to $16,000. On the 9th of March the Sunday School made a free-will offering of $207.00. The Trustees also sold the State street property Feb. 14, which netted the society $1,450. Shortly afterward they effected a sale of the church property on Third street to the "Free Evangelical Church," for $5,000, thus giving the society a building fund of $22,657, wherewith to start the new enterprise.

At a meeting of the trustees, March 4, it was decided to build, and David S. Doig was selected as the architect to draw up the plans for the new building. These plans were adopted at a meeting of the quarterly conference of April 5, 1882, and John Lake, Wm. Brown and Thomas G. Lawler were appointed the building committee. On the 7th of June a contract was entered into with David Keyt to build a brick church according to the plans and specifications furnished for the sum of $26,800; this amount not to include the stained-glass windows, frescoing, chandeliers, heating apparatus, or furnishing. The trustees estimate the entire cost of the building, when completed, at $30,000. The Centennial church now numbers 383 members. The pastors appointed to this church since its organization have been—.

1877–78. Hooper Crews, D D.
1878–81. William A. Spencer.
1882. Garret R. Vanhorne.

On Tuesday morning, June 20th, the walls of the old church were razed to the ground. On the morning of July 21st the first foundation-stone was laid for the new church. After it was in place, the pastor of the church knelt upon it and offered a prayer to God for the protection of the workmen and for uninterrupted success in the erection of the building.

With considerable research I have secured a correct list of all the Presiding Elders who have served on the districts in which the Rockford appointments have been located:

SUMMARY.

Thirty-four years have passed since the the First Methodist Church was dedicated in Rockford, and forty-six years since the organization of the first class. We then numbered five members. At the present time our standing may be summed up as follows: 5 churches, with a valuation of $59,000. 4 parsonages valued at $13,500, and a total membership of 1,345. With gratitude to Almighty God, for our prosperity and growth, we continue to labor for the spread of the Gospel with renewed consecration.

The writer is under personal obligations to the editors of the Gazette and Register, for the use of their files, to William L. Rowland for favors from the Public Library, and to many other persons who have furnished some of the important items contained in this sketch.

Historical Record.

Court street church was crowded yesterday morning to listen to the farewell words with which their pastor, Rev. T. P. Marsh, closed his three-years' term of service.

The services were opened with prayer by Rev. L. Anderson. He, in a specially earnest and touching manner, prayed in behalf of pastor and people. The rite of baptism was then administered to three men, after which four were received into the church by letter, and five men and one lady received from probation into full membership. A brief textual discourse then followed, upon the words, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven." He then presented a statement of the work of the church during his pastorate.

There has been paid for ministerial support:

|---|---|
| During 1st year - - | $1,960 50 |
| " 2nd " - - - | 1,960 50 |
| " 3rd " - - - | 1,982 52 |
| Total | $5,903 52 |

This includes payment to the pastor, the presiding elder and the bishops. The other expenses of the church and Sunday-school, and for improvements, were summed up as follows:

|---|---|
| 1st year - - - - | $1,055 83 |
| 2nd " - - - - | 994 21 |
| 3rd " - - - - | 1,729 98 |
| Total | $3,780 02 |

All floating debts are fully liquidated. For benevolent causes, the church has given nobly as follows.

|---|---|
| 1st year. | |
| For missions - - - | $535 22 |
| Other church enterprises - | 674 52 |
| For the poor - - - | 35 25 |
| Total | $1,244 99 |
| 2nd year. | |
| For missions - - - | $757 08 |
| Other church enterprises - | 554 76 |
| The poor - - - - | 68 00 |
| Total | $1,379 77 |
| 3rd year. | |
| For Michigan sufferers - | $ 46 00 |
| " Iowa " - | 172 21 |
| Total | $218 21 |

This is aside from the public gifts in which some of this church also shared. The collections for the Bible society, and for the educational cause are a decided increase over last year; $700 have already been contributed on the other benevolent causes. The Sunday school collection, which shows a gain on last year, and that from the Woman's Foreign Missionary society are to be added. Thus the benevolences of the third year will easily reach the average of the other two years.

This would be $1260.75, making all the gifts of the year, $1478.76. Total benevolent givings for the three years, $4,103.72. Add to this the charitable work of the Dorcas society. They have paid $450 in cash, and have sent valuable donations of clothing to Kansas and Iowa. Besides some of this people have given liberally to the support of the Y. M. C. A., and the temperance cause, as well as for private charities. But here is the actual giving of $4,553.72 for benevolence.

Mr. Marsh then proceeded as follows: Let those who talk so much about practical Christianity as against the spiritual consider, can any but an evangelical church of this size show such a record? Is there any atheistic or agnostic society that can point to any such comparative charity. Let Milne and Adler undertake to answer. Their dreams have not been realized. Let Ingersoll, boasting of sweet charity, find any equal number of infidels of corresponding property under the sun, who have ever done as well. It will ever be found the more spiritual and consecrated a society is, the more generous are they. Consider the meaning of all the monies raised and paid out by this church during these three years:

What a test of the faith of this people in the gospel of Christ. They do not pay thus for the mere luxury or fashion of having a preacher. But they believe this gospel is the power of God unto salvation. Here is the proof that the gospel has power to get hold of the hearts of the people, and what is much more difficult the power of getting hold of their pocket books as nothing else can.

A sketch of the membership of the church presents some interesting features. There have been received upon probation, i. e., by profession of faith, 150. Of these 1 has died, 32 have moved away with or without letters. The relations of 18 have been discontinued; 21 remain on probation, and 78 have been received into full membership. This large ingathering was made chiefly during the great revival winter before last. A revival that wonderfully strengthened this church in every way. Its influences will be felt in all her future career. It was a substantial benediction to our sister churches. It reached out into nearly all the avenues of this community. It sent bright torches to lighten the world in other places and other states, as grateful letters received by the pastor testify. What an indorsement this has been of the time honored revivals of the christian church. May Court Street Church have many more. May she prize them ever as the divine agencies of truly saving the largest number of men.

There have been received into the the church 78 from probation and 104 by letter. Total 182. Removed by letter 61, deceased 8. Leaving a net gain of 113. Considering the large number of removals this has been a very gratifying result. The present membership strength is

This is the real living membership. The literal showing of the church record numbers about 100 more. The Sunday school is the pride of the church. It contains 17 bible classes, and often taxes the edifice to its utmost capacity. The public preaching services have been attended by very large audiences, comparing most favorably with any in the city. Frequently the church has been crowded. The general prayer meeting is largely attended. The young peoples' meeting is vigorous. The seven class meetings are a spiritual power. The cottage prayer meetings have been many, and greatly prospered. What an army this church is indeed. What streams of vitalizing influence go out in all directions from this foundation.

Mr. Marsh closed by expressing the most sincere and heartfelt gratitude to the people for their forbearance, courtesy, kindness and love.
